Sense &

Sensibility

A Wayne Scott-LifeHouse Production

A New Musical Romance

The death of Mr. Dashwood leaves his second wife and three daughters in dire financial circumstances. The lack of fortune affects the marriageability of both practical Elinor and romantic Marianne. Can love find a way to transcend class, status and reputation, or will hardship thwart a happy ending for both the sister who is “all sense” and the one who is “all sensibility?” Jane Austen’s classic is cleverly retold.
